

2023
May 21, Sunday 13:30-17:30

Open Seminar

Pioneer of Public Health from St. Luke's to the world

Host : St. Luke's International University Graduate School of Public Health

Venue: Hinohara Hall, B1F, St. Luke's Center for Clinical Academia
(streamed simultaneously)

Capacity: 100 people for On-site participation, 300 people for Online participation

We will present the history of public health at St. Luke's and in Japan, and why St. Luke's has now established the Graduate School of Public Health to educate professionals who will serve the world from the perspectives of history, education, and career development. The seminar is open to all interested parties, including those considering enrollment in the school. You are also welcome to attend only the part I. We look forward to seeing you there.

Part 1: Symposium 13:30-15:15

Language: Japanese with online interpretation in English
Facilitator: Satomi Sato, Associate Professor

1. St. Luke's International University/St. Luke's International Hospital and the History of Public Health in Japan

Sachiko Ohde, Professor

2. Exploring Solutions to Public Health Issues by Systems Thinking

Nobuo Nishi, Dean

3. Taking advantage of St. Luke's MPH in your career

Kohei Onozaki, Professor

Part 2: Introduction to the School 15:30-17:30

Language: English only
Facilitator: Rahman Mahbubur, Professor
Outline of the curriculum
MPH: Kevin Urayama, Professor / PhD: Gilmour Stuart, Professor
Student/alumni presentations
Introduction of faculty and Frequently asked questions
Individual consultations with faculty and students (on-site only)

*Please note that the program is subject to change.

Registration

If you are interested in participating, please visit the registration site. Participation information will be sent to your registered e-mail address on May 18 (Thursday).
<https://forms.gle/DM8zSMPgqZADrSum6>

Inquiries : St. Luke's International University Graduate School of Public Health

Phone: 03-5550-4101 Email: sph@luke.ac.jp